What Does it Mean to be an Empiricist?
Empiricisms in Eighteenth Century Sciences
This book begins with an observation: At the time when empiricism arose and slowly established itself, the word itself had not yet been coined. Hence the central question of this volume: What does it mean to conduct empirical science in early modern Europe? How can we catch the elusive figure of the empiricist? Our answer focuses on the [...] 2018. IX, 297 p. 7 illus. (Boston Studies in the Philosophy and History of Science, Volume 331) Hardcover

The volume deals with her notions of truth, love, language, morality, politics and her life. [...] 2018. XI, 226 p. (Philosophers in Depth) Hardcover

The Self and Social Relations

This book is concerned with the human individual and her relationship with the communities of which she is a member. It argues against the traditional atomistic view that individuals are essentially independent of the social relations into which they enter, and instead argues for the holistic view that we are essentially social beings who cannot exist apart from normative communities.

Film in the Anthropocene

This book provides an interdisciplinary analysis of film in the context of the Anthropocene: the new geological era in which human beings have collectively become a force of nature. Daniel White draws on perspectives in philosophy, ecology, and cybernetics (the science of communication and control in animals and machines) to explore human self-understanding through film in the new era.

Unity of Body and Soul or Mind-Brain-Being?

Towards a Paradigm Shift in Modern Concepts of Personhood

The relationship between our living body and our soul, our mental expressions of life and our physical environment, are both classical topics for discussion and ones which currently present themselves as part of a truly exciting philosophical debate: are we today still able to speak of a “soul”? And what is meant by a (living) body [...] 2018. XI, 442 p. (Abhandlungen zur Philosophie) Softcover € 54.99 | £ 49.99 € (D) 58.84 | € (A) 60.49 | *CHF 65.00 ISBN 978-3-476-04717-5
