Africa and Globalization
Challenges of Governance and Creativity
This book considers the promises and challenges of globalization for Africa. Why have African states been perennially unable to diversify their economies and move beyond export of primary produce, even as Southeast Asia has made a tremendous leap into manufacturing? What institutional impediments are in play in African states? [...]

Killing Orders
Talat Pasha’s Telegrams and the Armenian Genocide
The book represents an earthquake in genocide studies, particularly in the field of Armenian Genocide research. A unique feature of the Armenian Genocide has been the long-standing efforts of successive Turkish governments to deny its historicity and to hide the documentary evidence surrounding it. [...]

Life in Treaty Port China and Japan
This edited volume moves beyond the traditional examination of the treaty ports of China and Japan as places of cultural interaction. It moves ‘beyond the Bund’, presenting instead the history of material culture, the everyday life of the residents of the treaty ports beyond the symbology of Shanghai’s waterfront. [...]

This book focuses on a little-studied yet virulent and devoted fascist faction that was active within Zionist circles during the 1920s and 1930s. Since the early 1930s, the term ‘fascist’ was regularly used by Labour Zionists in order to defame their right-wing opponents, the ‘Revisionists’. The latter group, for its part, tended to reject such accusations. [...] 2018. XIV, 210 p. 5 illus. Hardcover $ 99.99 ISBN 978-3-319-73678-5

<td>Britain and the Mine, 1900–1915</td>
<td>R. Dunley</td>
<td>This book examines Britain’s complex relationship with the mine in the years 1900–1915. The development of mine warfare represented a unique mix of challenges and opportunities for Britain in the years before the First World War. The mine represented the antithesis of British maritime culture in material form, and attempts were made to limit its use under international law.</td>

Juana I
Legitimacy and Conflict in Sixteenth-Century Castile
This book examines the deep and lengthy crisis of legitimacy triggered by the death of Prince Juan of Castile and Aragon in 1497 and the subsequent ascent of Juana I to the throne in 1504. Confined by historiography and myth to the madwoman’s attic, Juana emerges here as a key figure at the heart of a period of tremendous upheaval, reaching its peak in the war of the Comunidades, or comunero upris [...] 2018. Queenship and Revolution in Early Modern Europe

Henrietta Maria and Marie Antoinette

Queen Marie Antoinette, wife of King Louis XVI of France and Queen Henrietta Maria, wife of King Charles I of England were two of the most notorious queens in European history. They both faced accusations that they had transgressed social, gender and regional norms, and attempted to defend themselves against negative reactions to their behavior. [...]

Does Generation Matter?
Progressive Democratic Cultures in Western Europe, 1945-1960
“Generation” has become a central concept of cultural, historical and social studies. This book analyses how this concept is currently used and how it relates to memory and constructions of historical meaning from educational, historical, legal and political perspectives. [...]

S. Williams
Unmarried Motherhood in the Metropolis, 1700-1850
Pregnancy, the Poor Law and Provision
In this book Samantha Williams examines illegitimacy, unmarried parenthood and the old and new poor laws in a period of rising illegitimacy and poor relief expenditure. In doing so, she explores the experience of being an unmarried mother from courtship and conception, through the discovery of pregnancy, and the birth of the child in lodgings or one of the new parish workhouses.
