D. K. Coffey

Drafting the Irish Constitution, 1935–1937
Transnational Influences in Interwar Europe

The second of two volumes, this book situates the drafting of the Irish Constitution within broader transnational constitutional currents. Donal K. Coffey pioneers a new method of draft sequencing in order to track early influences in the drafting process and demonstrate the importance of European influences such as the German, Polish, and Portuguese Constitutions to the Irish drafts. Human Trafficking and Security in Southern Africa
The South African and Mozambican Experience
This book investigates the links between human trafficking and national security in Southern Africa. Human trafficking violates borders, supports organised crime and corrupts border officials, and yet policymakers rarely view the persistence of human trafficking as a security issue. [...]
This book shows how a stormy parliamentary debate over the sale of German properties in Nigeria on 8 November 1916 began the process which brought down Asquith and made Lloyd George prime minister. The colonial secretary, Bonar Law, who was also leader of the Conservative Party, wanted neutral firms to bid. [...]

D. Tamir
Hebrew Fascism in Palestine, 1922–1942
This book focuses on a little-studied yet virulent and devoted fascist faction that was active within Zionist circles during the 1920s and 1930s. Since the early 1930s, the term ‘fascist’ was regularly used by Labour Zionists in order to defame their right-wing opponents, the ‘Revisionists’. The latter group, for its part, tended to reject such accusations. [...]

The Palgrave Handbook of Shakespeare’s Queens
From Byzantium to the Late European Middle Ages

St. Anne was popular with representatives of various segments of society – from monks, nuns, members of the clergy, royal patrons, to church-goers of every rank. This book looks into both the public and private worship of this holy woman and brings to the surface some under-exposed aspects of it.

Heavenly Sustenance in Patristic Texts and Byzantine Iconography
Nourished by the Word

This book examines ideas of spiritual nourishment as maintained chiefly by Patristic theologians – those who lived in Byzantium. It shows how a particular type of Byzantine frescoes and icons illustrated the views of Patristic thinkers on the connections between the heavenly and the earthly worlds.

Writing the Victorian Constitution

This book charts the writing of the English constitution through the work of four of the most influential jurists in the history of English constitutional thought—Edmund Burke, Thomas Babington Macaulay, Walter Bagehot and Albert Venn Dicey. Stretching from the French Revolution to the death of Queen Victoria, their writing is both representative of and formative to the Victorian constitution. [...]

History, Historians and the Immigration Debate

Going Back to Where We Came From

This book is a response to the binary thinking and misuse of history that characterize contemporary immigration debates. Subverting the traditional injunction directed at migrants to ‘go back to where they came from’, it highlights the importance of the past to contemporary discussions around migration. [...]
