This volume gathers, analyses, discusses and evaluates results of current research on arts and cultural education in Europe, focusing on the challenges of cultural diversity.

Cultural diversity is an increasingly characteristic feature of contemporary society, as globalization and mobility of people, goods, ideas, and cultural expressions continue to expand. In this context, it is crucial to reflect on how we can foster respect for diversity, while at the same time ensuring that all individuals have the opportunity to participate in cultural life.

This book offers an accessible guide to understanding the importance of a systems approach to embedding sustainability into teacher education practice, providing a practical resource for teacher education academics and others with an interest in organisational change. It brings to the fore the voices of the children in the present, with their interests, agendas and rights.

One of the most significant developments in contemporary education is the view that knowing and understanding are anchored in cultural practices within communities. This shift coincides with technological changes that have enabled enhanced learning communities through technology. The Handbook of Literacy in Akshara Orthography, edited by R. M. Joshi and C. McBride, examines the unique characteristics of akshara orthography and how they may affect literacy development and problems along with the implications for assessment and instruction. The book is scheduled for release in 2019.

The Compendium for Early Career Researchers in Mathematics Education, edited by G. Kaiser and N. Presmeg, aims to serve as a resource for early career researchers in furthering their knowledge of the state of the field and disseminating their research through publishing. This book is also set for release in 2019.

Re-imagining the Art School

Paragogy and Artistic Learning

This book proposes ‘paragogic’ methods to re-imagine the art academy. While art schooling was revolutionised in the early 20th century by the Bauhaus, the author argues that many art schools are unwittingly recycling the same modernist pedagogical fashions. Stagnating in such traditions, today’s art schools are blind to recent advances in the scholarship of teaching and learning. [...] 2019. XV, 145 p. 3 illus.
