Diversity in Decline?
The Rise of the Political Right and the Fate of Multiculturalism

In this book, Arjun Tremblay considers the future of multiculturalism, contextualised within an ideological and political shift to the right. Is there any hope that multiculturalism will survive alongside the rise of the political right across democracies? How can policy makers continue to recognize and to accommodate minorities in an increasingly inhospitable ideological environment? [...]

Civilisation and Informalisation
Connecting Long-Term Social and Psychic Processes

Over the last century and a half, manners and formalities in the West have become less status-ridden, stiff and rigid. Debates around Norbert Elias’ theory of civilising processes gave rise to questions of a change in direction of these patterns. The concept of informalisation, which describes these transformations, was first used to analyse the tumultuous changes of the 1960s and 1970s.

Difficulty in Poetry: A Stylistic Model
This book theoretically defines and linguistically analyses the popular notion that poetry is ‘difficult’ - hard to read, hard to understand, hard to engage with. It is the first work to offer a stylistic and cognitive model that sheds new light on the mechanisms of difficulty, as well as on its range of potential effects. Its eight chapters are organised into two thematic parts. [...] 2019. XVI, 386 p. 25 illus. Hardcover €89.99 | £79.99 € (D) 96,29 | € (A) 98,99 | CHF 106.50 ISBN 978-3-319-97000-4
